Three-and-a-half decades ago, Eric Marcus left his job at CBS Morning News to pursue a passion project that would change his life and countless others who have been affected by his work. Having been commissioned to bring the history of the LGBTQ+ civil rights movement to life through the voices of the people who lived it in an oral history book, Marcus began interviewing both known and long forgotten people who contributed in some way to the movement. His conversation with activist Barbara Gittings (shown above with Marcus in 1989) became part of the original 1992 edition of Making Gay History, which has evolved into a podcast and a nonprofit educational organization of the same name. Today, Marcus serves as Executive Director and uses his podcast platform to ensure these firsthand stories of struggle and triumph are shared with future generations. He is also the author of ten other books, and is a founding board member of the new American LGBTQ+ Museum in New York City.
From the lyrical poetry of Sappho to Greek mythology, stories of same-sex love were not uncommon in the classical world. And yet, much of the LGBTQ+ history from those ancient times and beyond has been suppressed by a culture of intolerance. Our exclusive itinerary, developed in partnership with the American LGBTQ+ Museum in New York City, features tours of historic sites from a more enlightened perspective. Eric Marcus, a founding board member of the museum and the founder and host of the award-winning Making Gay History podcast, will also speak on board about the history of the LGBTQ+ civil rights movement in the U.S. Join us as we see this part of the world with a different lens, honoring voices from the past and creating meaningful connections for a brighter future.
